Star Student/All About Me Kid Next Week:

Sarah Repischak

First Grade

In Math this week we worked on more than and fewer than. We are on our way to adding and subtracting. In Reading we continued talking about the story "The Family Market". We talked about the difference between fact and fantasy. In Phonics we are continuing to work on our sounds. We will be having a Science test on Monday October 11th. We will being Spelling tests the week of October 18th.

Kindergarten Corner:

In Math we are working on graphing and patterning. Work on finding different patterns in your house with your child. In Language/Phonics we started reviewing all letters and sounds. Short vowels are hard, so this is something to work on at home. Next week we will be learning our first word! In Reading our new story was Mice Squeak, We Speak. We talked about different animals and the sounds they make. We started our first unit in Social Studies this week and learned about rules and why they are important. We also learned what a citizen is. In Religion we learned about forgiving people even when they do things to us that are not nice.

Memory For Next Week:

K: God cares for you.
1 Peter 5:7

1st: Jesus said, "You did not choose Me, but I choose you...to go and bear fruit."
John 15:16

Reminders:

~Don't forget to check those Take Home Folders!

~Next week we will be starting our monthly visits to the Waterford Library. We will be going the first Tuesday of every month. A permission slip is attached and needs to be returned by the time we go on Tuesday. My rules for the library are that the children can check out 2 books, but no movies.

~Reading Logs should have been updated. Please make sure to check the goal for the month!

~October Scholastic Book Orders are due on October 22nd.

~Kindergarten will be starting Bedtime Books next week Thursday. A letter is attached to the kindergarteners newsletters.

~The 1st graders will have their first book report due at the end of October. More information is attached about this book report.
